A carload of brick was derailed at the junction of the L. and N. and C. and O. Railroads yesterday, blocking the Eastbound track. The truck from Covington was brought up and lifted the car on the track.

It was through the heroic services of Dr. Dan Daly and his able assistant, Eddie Mitchell, that THE LEDGER was able to appear as it did yesterday. Thanks, Dan. When we need you, we need you bad.

Just received, a beautiful line of Stag and Sterling Silver handled Carving Sets. We are offering these sets at low prices from $2.50 per set to $18. Now is your chance to get a good Carving Set cheap. With every dollar's worth of goods you get a ticket on the Diamond Ring. P. J. MURPHY, the Jeweler.

Police Chief Ort was busy yesterday investigating the shooting down at the railroad camp. It seems that three Negroes jumped on Mr. W. H. Hayes, a foreman, and he was compelled to shoot to defend himself. One Negro was probably shot, but not seriously. The Negroes all escaped, and the police are busy looking for them.

Mrs. Washington Paughburn, formerly of Ripley, while in a delirium from typhoid fever at her home in Buchanan, W. Va., committed suicide by drowning in the creek. Her remains were brought to Ripley last evening for interment. She was well known in this city as having been the wife of Rev. Pangburn, a prominent Methodist Divine.

Manager Tom Russell is in receipt of a letter from the owner of the Robert Fitzsimmons Company, in which he states that our former townsmen, Lud Hamilton, "is doing fine and delivering the goods." This company will play Mayville about December 18th.

We trust the readers of THE LEDGER will forbear with its lack of news today. The cause of this dearth is occasioned by the half page ad of Merz Bros. appearing on the editorial page, to which your attention is invited. It will be to your advantage, dear reader, to watch that space for the next few days. Many bargains and surprises are in store for you.

Cloak Sensation of the Season, The "WOOLTEX-BELMORE."

Three countries contribute to this smart style. To Paris it owes the special shaping of the back seams that is a strong point of distinction.

To England the smart pattern of the cloths and the general manly effect.

And to America, those little tricks of adaption and perfection that has sent it right to the front of the season's styles.

It's smart—that's the term that best defines it. Call it chic, clever, stunning, also all of these terms fit it well.

Prices $10 to $25.

Blanket Interests.

If you were warm enough last night this doesn't interest you.

It's conditions not statements that concern you and you don't care how good these blankets are, if your own are thick enough for comfort.

They are extra good however and you shouldn't miss them if you're in the market for blankets! Sold at prices that can't be touched, in lowness, for their quality.

$6¹₂—Scarlet or white, all wool, soft as down, 74×84 inches; 6¹₂ pounds.

$5—A popular-price blanket, consequently a Hunt Special—that as to quality-for-price. It's a big value. Weight and size as above.

Editorial Epigrams.

MARTINSVILLE, IND., November 24th, 1906.
I've been steppin' high ever since THE LEDGER came here with my name tacked onto the end of a letter from this place. The fellow who has never "been there" has no idea how "cheesy" a chap feels when he first sees his name in print, and from the novitiate's viewpoint there isn't a pair of stock scales in Mason county that would weigh his importance. But if one hasn't a good opinion of one's self who will have it?

and then there are so many in this world who would be painfully lonesome but for their own admiration.

I once heard a friend wish he was rich for five minutes, to see how it felt. He didn't say just how rich he wanted to be, and probably that made little difference as wishes go. But last night I slept in a bed that had just been vacated by a New York millionaire, and this morning I feel like thirty cents.

It looks like every time I let loose on the job of holding things down in the old town some one tries to make a raid on the poor Insurance Companies. Maybe if the grasping Companies would be a bit more careful in issuing big policies on little stocks they would not meet so many losses—even in Maysville.

Among the recent arrivals at this Mecca of Rheumatics are Messrs. Edward P. and LeWright Browning, who came last evening. The former hobbled in with a cane, and this morning started out to inspect the city. It be likes it, he'll take it home and add it to the Pulley Factory.

I wonder if there's any decent politics in Indiana than there is in Kentucky. This county of Morgan is Republican, normally by 300. At the recent election a Democrat was chosen Sheriff by a good majority. He was a popular man, and deservedly so. A man of affairs, he was entrusted with much business, and it was attention to this that kept him from his country home one night soon after the election and sent him to a hotel in this city. The next morning he was found unconscious in his room, and later in the day he died. All agree that it was an accident—that in turning out the gas it was the old story of turning the key too far, allowing the room to fill with the deadly stuff,—as surely fatal as a cannon shot.

The Commission whose duty it is to name his successor is Republican, and there are suggestions that his late competitor is to be appointed. And here is a delicate situation. Evidently, the majority of the voters preferred the dead man, without prejudice to his defeated opponent, no doubt; then what a beautiful tribute it would be if the Commission would name the brother or a near friend of the late officer-elect as his successor. It would, in the only way now practicable, carry out the will of the voters, and it would be a graceful act on the part of the Republican candidate to further such solution of the matter.

This suggestion would fall upon "cold, deaf ears" in Kentucky, where politics is more regarded than either religion or patriotism; but we shall see how it pans out in Indiana.

I observe that Parson Cave has been threshing the fields for game with marked success. Will you kindly have him place my share in cold storage for a few days?

Hurry up with those brick streets, as I want to ride all the way through town when I get back to My Old Kentucky Home.

Thomas A. Day

A DISCUSSION has arisen within that body over the advisability of making public the platform and principles of the American Federation of Labor. Surely that organization hasn't any platform or principles that it is ashamed of, or that the great American public shouldn't know.

AN APOLOGY

For our inability to give you the best of service last Saturday is hardly necessary, for any person that was in our store at any time from the opening to the closing could not expect much attention. However, we wish to thank our thousands of customers for their patience and good will shown us last Saturday. IT WAS A TIDAL WAVE of purchasers eager to take advantage of our offering of merchandise at little cost, knowing THE TREMENDOUS INCREASE IN VALUES reported everywhere. It is gratifying to us to tell you Saturday's business was larger by 50 per cent. than any day in the history of this store, our sales amounting, we believe, to as much as ANY FIVE OTHER DRYGOODS STORES IN MASON COUNTY TOGETHER.

THERE IS NO QUESTION

But that WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY on merchandise, and WE DO. FIVE YEARS OF HONEST MERCHANDISING IS NOW REAPING ITS REWARD. WE ARE THE ONLY DRYGOODS STORE IN MAYSVILLE that is not afraid to mark its goods in PLAIN FIGURES. A SQUARE DEAL TO ALL ALIKE is our motto. We BUY goods cheaper than any house in Maysville, and we can prove it that we sell cheaper; YOU have proven it.

Keep Both Eyes on This Space for Special Offerings Each Day.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dredged disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient's strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

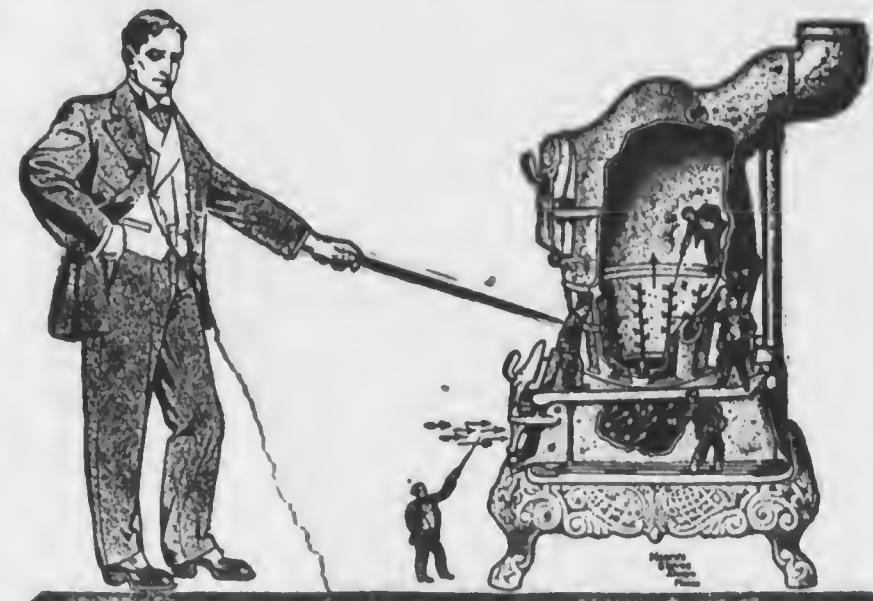

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists. 75c. Take Hall's Family Pill for constipation.
